A MISTERY OF THE SEA.

Brigative Found Abandoned-Probable Murder of the Captain, his Wife and Child by a Drunken Crew. TASHINGTON, March 24.—The following cular relative to the brigantine Mary Celeste, und derelict at sea, has been issued from the Customs and others:

You are requested to furnish this department with any information you may be able to obtain affording a clue which lead to a discovery of all the facts concerning the descrition of a vessel found on the lith of December last in latitude 28:20 north, and longitude 17:51 west, derelict at sea, and which was towed into the harbor of Gibraltar by the British vessel, bei Gratia, and there libelied by the salvors. From the log of the abandoned vessel she is supposed to be the American brigantine Mary Celeste, bound from New York to Gonoa, and it is supposed that she hailed from New York, and that her master's same was Brigge.

American brigantine Mary Celeste, bound from New York to Genoa, and it is supposed that she hailed from New York, and that her master's same was Briggs.

The circumstances of the case tend to arouse rave suspicions that the master, his wife and child, and perhaps the chief mate, were murdered, in the fury of drunkenness, by the crew, who had evidently obtained access to the alcohol with which the vessel was in part laden. It is thought that the vessel was abandoned by the crew between the 25th day of November and the 5th day of December, and that they either perished at sea, or more likely escaped on some vessel bound for some Northern or South American port, or the West India Islands.

When discovered the derelict vessel was thoroughly sound, with the exception of the bows, which had been impaired by some sharp instrument. She was well found and provisioned, and no reason for her desertion was apparent.

A sword with the appearance of blood thereon was on board, and marks of blood were found upon the sails. The vessel's documents and chronometer have not been found, but almost the whole of the personal effects of the master and his wife and child and of the crew were discovered in a good condition, and books, trinkets, gold lockets, and female wearing apparel of superior quality were left untouched in the oabin. The log was complete to noon of the 24th of November. Many other details concerning the master are in the possession of the department, and will be furnished on application if necessary. (Signed), Ww. A. Richardsbow.
